

Practical resources: Accessing Census information post-2010

The following resources will remain online for an indefinite period of time, generally for at least 5 years, barring technical problems.

Census Portal: www.coml.org

Image and Video Galleries will continue to serve as a place to view images and videos from the Census and its projects. The images have credit and contact information to direct media and other users to the image copyright holders (noting contact information valid as of April 2011 and will not be updated).

Census Partner Resources is a place where you can download electronic copies of the 2010 Highlights Report, the “policy report,” the National Geographic map, all of the materials from the London events (videos, presentations, photos, graphics such as t-shirt design), and a few other useful items. This is your go-to resource! You do need to log-in to access it → Username: Outreach2010, Password: Census2010 (both are case-sensitive)

Census Secretariat webpage: www.comlsecretariat.org

The page on Reports & Other documents link provides links to most of the historical reports and publications from the Census, including the “feasibility workshops” that launched the program. A “top ten” of what we feel the most useful reports will be for people who want an overview of the development, progress, and conclusion of the Census can be found: <http://www.comlsecretariat.org/about/top-coml-documents/>.

Password-protected sites for the Census SSC and Life in a Changing Ocean SPC will remain accessible here for some time.

Census Databases: <http://db.coml.org/>

The Secretariat has continued to add new publications and approve entries from the projects to the Bibliographic Database throughout 2011. This will now stop, but you can continue to do this on your own. Each project and NRIC has a username and password. For viewing non-public information in the database, such as the PDFs of articles (for which we have them), you can login with the generic Census login → Username: comluser1@coml.org, Password: comlbib1

Contact information in the Community Database is updated by the Secretariat as of the end of 2010. You can continue to update contact information for your groups going forward. Each project and NRIC has a username and password. For the purposes of viewing, much of this information is accessible publicly, but you can also use the Census login → Username: comluser1, Password: comlul

Census Flickr page: <http://www.flickr.com/photos/55038698@N03/sets/>

Websites Archive: Archive-It

The link following link will point you to the archive of all of the Census websites performed in the [northern] spring 2011: <http://www.archive-it.org/public/collection.html?id=2333>.

Depending on how each individual Census website was built, the images and video may or may not have been archived. This is a limitation of the Internet Archive system and archiving web content in general. Please note that the best way to access any information via the Archive-It system is to type in keywords or page titles in the "search" box.

Please also note that the URI E&O team is committed to keeping the current www.coml.org web portal online as long as our current web server is operational; however, at this point, the content of the site will no longer be updated.
